Of Counsel

Baltimore | 410.862.1107 | jkeillor@bakerdonelson.com

Joseph Keillor represents health care clients in a broad range of transactional and regulatory matters.

Joseph Keillor is a health care attorney with deep experience serving as a trusted advisor to clients regarding their thorniest and most complex health care regulatory matters. He regularly leads external compliance investigations, handles self-disclosures under the Self-Referral Disclosure Protocol (SRDP), and advises clients regarding the structuring or restructuring of contractual arrangements to minimize regulatory risks, especially with respect to the Physician Self-Referral Law and the Anti-Kickback Statute.

Joseph regularly helps clients design and implement alignment strategies, including through developing Accountable Care Organizations (ACOs), along with a variety of other mechanisms. He also regularly advises clients regarding implications of changing payment models to their organizations and strategies for adapting to such changing models while managing regulatory risks. Joseph also has extensive experience in all phases of affiliations and mergers and acquisitions, including public, non-profit, and for-profit clients.

Joseph also provided dedicated leadership to The Health Project, Inc., a non-profit organization championing employer health promotion programs, where he served in a variety of capacities for over a decade.

Prior to attending law school, Joseph was an officer in the U.S. Air Force. In 2005, he served a tour of duty in Afghanistan. Joseph also served in the U.S. Air Force Reserve through 2011.
