

OUR FIRM

The Daschle Group

Purpose

The Daschle Group, A Public Policy Advisory of Baker Donelson, is a full-service strategic advisory firm that advises clients on a broad array of economic, policy and political issues. Founded by former U.S. Senator and Senate Majority Leader Tom Daschle and leading law and government affairs firm Baker Donelson, The Daschle Group is dedicated to achieving the public policy goals of its clients through creative strategies that promote transparency, flexibility and innovation.

The Daschle Group works with Baker Donelson's Government Relations and Public Policy Group, which was founded by former Senate Majority Leader Howard Baker, continuing Senator Baker's legacy of respectful discourse, principled compromise, bipartisanship and finding practical solutions to difficult public policy challenges facing the nation.

Philosophy

At a time when our nation's capital is characterized by unyielding gridlock, The Daschle Group is committed to incubating the best ideas from both sides of the aisle and working with clients to implement them at all levels of government. With a team of highly skilled and respected professionals who possess a deep knowledge of all levels of government and a bipartisan background, The Daschle Group is poised to assist in revitalizing government through bipartisan problem solving and first-class strategic advice on wide ranging issues including health care, energy, the environment and transportation.
