Scott Carey Discusses Nashville's Legal Market in the Nashville Business Journal

Nashville's surging economy has amplified the competition for legal talent and led to a flurry of turnover among firms in Music City. In this Nashville Business Journal article, Scott Carey comments on the advantage longstanding firms have over newer firms entering the market.

"There's fierce competition for top legal talent in Nashville, particularly in the health care arena," said Mr. Carey. "It's going to be difficult for a law firm to come into this market, recruit lawyers and substantially grow. You have to have a critical mass."
