Health Care Attorney Alisa L. Chestler Joins Baker Donelson

February 21, 2008

(Washington, D.C./February 21, 2008) Baker, Donelson, Bearman, Caldwell & Berkowitz, PC announces the addition of Alisa L. Chestler as of counsel in the Firm's Washington, D.C. office.

Ms. Chestler concentrates her practice in the area of health law. She has experience in health care operations, health care contracting, regulatory and licensing matters, disease management, HIPAA, government contracting and procurement. Ms. Chestler previously was Vice President, Associate General Counsel at APS Healthcare, Inc., where she was responsible for legal oversight of all federal and state regulatory compliance issues, including licensing, HIPAA and state regulatory activities, information technology matters, compliance and operational issues, policy and procedural development. Her extensive experience as in-house counsel includes complex IT licensing agreements and real estate leases. She has worked for several large health care companies and insurers, including CareFirst BlueCross BlueShield and Magellan Health Services.

"Alisa brings to the Firm and our clients an extensive solid background in disease management, payor contracting, privacy and health care compliance. We are pleased to welcome her to the Firm," said Richard G. Cowart, head of Baker Donelson's Health/Public Policy Department.

"Alisa's knowledge of an increasingly complex area of health care law is a significant addition to the Firm as we continue to enhance our health law capabilities in Washington and expand the depth of our health practice firmwide," said John G. Calender, managing shareholder of the Washington, D.C. office.

A 1994 graduate of Hofstra University School of Law, Ms. Chestler serves as Vice Chairman of the Compliance Committee of the Disease Management Association of America. She is also a member of the American Health Law Association and the International Association of Privacy Professionals.
