Three Baker Donelson Attorneys Named to Law360 Editorial Advisory Boards

February 10, 2011

(Memphis, TN/February 10, 2011) Kenneth M. Klemm, Adam G. Sowatzka and J. Carter Thompson of Baker, Donelson, Bearman, Caldwell and Berkowitz, PC have been named to the 2011 editorial advisory boards for Law360, a national newswire for business lawyers.

Kenneth M. Klemm, shareholder in the New Orleans office and co-chair of the Marine and Energy Industry Service Team, has been named to the 2011 Energy Law 360 editorial advisory board.

Adam G. Sowatzka, shareholder and senior environmental attorney in the Atlanta office, has been named to the 2011 Environmental Law360 editorial advisory board.

J. Carter Thompson, shareholder in the Jackson office, leader of the Product Liability and Mass Tort Group and co-chair of the Drug, Device and Life Sciences Industry Group, has been named to the 2011 Product Liability Law360 editorial advisory board.

Through these editorial advisory boards, leading legal professionals provide feedback and guidance to Law360, whose editors chose from a pool of more than 1,000 highly qualified attorneys who volunteered to fill the 12 spots on each of the boards.
